

We claim:

1. A computer implemented method for international trade through the Internet, the method comprising:

5 connecting to the Internet, using an Internet connector to connect said international trade web site to process trade;
selecting products in a purchasing page of said web site;
selecting specification according to said selected products;
producing an order form according to said selected products and said selected 10 specification, wherein said order form includes product name, quality, unit price and total price; checking said order form to confirm whether said selected products and selected specification is correct; and sending said order form to said web site after confirming said order form, 15 wherein said web site will send said order form to suppliers respectively to process an electrical exchange.

2. The method of claim 1, wherein the step of checking said order form further includes if the total price is out of the budget, the buyer may negotiate with the 20 product supplier through the Internet directly.

3. The method of claim 1, wherein the step of checking said order form further includes if the total price is out of budget, the buyer may set said order form being on-hold and post the price being accepted to the suppliers through the Internet. In 25 response to a determination that said price been accepted by a supplier, returning to checking order form step.

4. The method of claim 1, wherein the step of selecting specification means to select the specification for shipping, insurance, inspection and banking.

5. The method of claim 1, wherein said web site will send order form to suppliers
5 respectively means to send the order form to the suppliers that produce the production the buyer wanted.

6. The method of claim 1, wherein said purchase page further includes the web page of product price comparison.

7. The method of claim 1, wherein said order form comprises the product name, quality, unit price, specification and total price.

8. A computer implemented system for international trade through the Internet, the 15 system comprising:

a client computer which may use an Internet connector to connect the Internet to process trade and send an order form;

a trade server linking with said client computer to receive said order form sent by said client computer;

20 a plurality of suppliers' computers linking with said trade server to receive said confirmed order form ; and an Internet linking with said client computer, said trade server and a plurality of suppliers computer.

25 9. The system of claim 8, wherein said trade server may send said order form to relative supplier after confirming said order form.

